INTRODUCTION

The readers of Volume I of the History of Rogers' Rangers will undoubtedly ponder over this 'Skip-a-cross' publication of Volume III. The Author-Publisher hastens to add that it certainly was not his original intent. Rather, it is a desperate medium of necessity to render the History in printed form for the benefit of readers who have shown enough interest to inquire about the publication birth of Volumes II and III of this work.

For ten years, since the publication of Vol I, in 1946, the author has solicited publishing houses for publication of II & III, both, by person, and through a Literary Agent. Now, the human age barrier rears it's inevitable head and this writer was faced with the choice of consigning the balance of the Rangers' History to his heirs in Manuscript form, or, to make this last, to repeat, 'desperate', attempt to present his unbound history by this method of Printing.

If the author 'outlives' this publication of Volume III, he will endeavour to print Volume II by the same method. Volume III was chosen over II, for printing first, because of it's rare Genealogical material, which should enable many Family Historians to fill their gaps. The names and facts of Rogers Rangers service and other pertinent biography herewith presented has never before been made available.

An extensive Bibliography was not deemed necessary for the sources are derived from those that built Volume I (primarily the Loudoun and Abercrombie MSS in the Huntington Library) and Volume II (the W.O.34 Amherst papers). Muster Rolls, gleanings from Officers petitions and Ranger officer's correspondence with Rogers, Loudoun, Abercrombie, Wolf and Amherst were consulted. The 18 citations are Loudoun MSS call numbers in the Huntington Library, San Marino, California. The W.O.34 citations may be found in the War Office, 34 Amherst collection in the Public Records Office, London, England.

The Ranger names appear alphabetically by the highest office they attained in Rogers Rangers. If this is not known, consult the name index in back of this volume. All mentions of 'discharged' are honorable, unless stated otherwise. The name only, of the Rogers Ranger Company is cited, viz., for the individual's service. Other Regular or Provincial regiments they may have served in are listed by full title or number. It is assumed that the reader is a student of the historical events and personages of the periods involved. Hence, no repetitious description.

The Author would like to mention that he has no other genealogical or biographical information on the individuals written on in this book. Further study is up to the reader.

THE LIEUTENANT-COLONEL

ROBERT ROGERS:

Nov 7, 1732: Born in Methuen, Mass., fourth son of James Rogers Sr. and Mary McPatrick.

Apr 1740: The Rogerses move to Lovell's Farm across the N.H. line and 16 miles from Rumford (now Concord, N.H.).

1744-48: Rogers sees action in King George's War when only 15 years old. Served as a Private in Captain Daniel Ladd's Scouting Company (July 16-Oct 2, 1746) that guarded the frontier of New Hampshire. Served in the same capacity in Ebenezer Eastman's Scouting Company on the same duty (Aug 1-Sept 12, 1747).

1748: Rogers' farm destroyed by St. Francis Indians—only one apple tree of a young orchard survives—and the Rogerses.

1752: Rogers' father, clad in deer-skins and bowed by age, is mistaken for a bear and shot by a friend. Rogers is 20.

1753: Rogers starts his career by building a house and barn at Durberton, Vt., and locating a tenant, while he follows the alluring life of a trapper and trader, roaming as far as Canada.

Aug 23-Sept 21, 1754: Rogers serves as a Private in Blanchard's detachment of the N.H. Regiment posted on the Connecticut River.

Jan 1755: Raises 24 N.H. men for Nova Scotian
the service in Shirley's Mass Regt.
Feb 7, 1755: Arrested on suspicion of Counterfeiting printed tender.
Feb 12, 1755: George himself by breaking his contract with Mass and taking himself and his 24 men into the N.H. service.
Apr 1755: Commissioned Captain of the First Company of Blanchard's N.H. Regt. designated as a Ranger Company.
June 1755: Builds Ft Wentworth at the forke of Connecticut, Willim and Ammonoosuc
Rivers in Gilead County, N.H.
Aug 20, 1755: Rogers and his Company are detached from the N.H. Regt.
to join Johnson at Lé George and commence his scouting work.
1755-1761: Takes detachments of his battalion of Rangers into 27 Battles and 14 recorded scouts during French and Indian War.
Feb 26, 1761: Arrives at N.Y. from Detroit Expedition and Annotat rewards him with the Captaincy of Paul Donaty's S.C.
Independent Company of Regulars. Rogers' commission dated from Oct 25, 1761.
June 30, 1761: Marries Elizabeth Brown, daughter of Reverend Arthur
Brown, Portsmouth, N.H. She is 20 and he 29.

June 1765: While seeking favor in high London circles Rogers enhances his fame. His coach is held up by a Highwayman and while reaching into the window to demand the Rangers' wallet, Rogers pulls him into the coach with one arm and collects the reward.

Aug 12, 1765: Rogers presents a memorial to the King's Council urging a search for the Northwest Passage.

Oct 1765: His JOURNALS and CONCISE ACCOUNT OF N. AMERICA are published by John Millan in London, after taking only three months to write them. He is appointed "Governor" of Michilimackinac.

Dec 1765: Rogers completes his play PONTEACH

Dec 18, 1765: Rogers sails for America on the frigate Resolute.

Jan 15, 1766: Arrives in N.Y. Gage reluctantly hands him his commission and instructions for Michilimackinac June 10.

July 23, 1766: Figures prominently in Johnson's huge Indian Conference at Oswego (while on his way to Michilimackinac) attended by Pontiac and the Northwestern tribes.

Aug 1766: Arrives at Michilimackinac with wife, Elizabeth, and Nathaniel Potter, his Secretary.

Sept 12, 1766: Sends J. Tute towards the Mississippi to map the country in preparation for Rogers anticipated order to seek the Northwest Passage.

June 23, 1767: Benjamin Roberts arrives at Michilimackinac to supervise the Indian trade. Clashes with Rogers over rum withdrawl. Rogers sends him to Gage on an insubordination charge.

Dec 1767: Gage orders Rogers confined in irons at Michilimackinac thru the winter hoping that he will die before spring and he can be sent to Montreal to face a trumped-up charge of treason.

June 1768: Arrives at Montreal for trial.

Oct 12-31, 1768: Court-martialed & acquitted.

June 1769: Sails for London. Receives an audience with George III and taps the Royal Treasury for 3,000 pounds sterling but his drive for a baronetcy and a pension fails. Brings suit against Gage for assault and imprisonment.

June 1770: His creditors close in and he is thrown into Fleet Prison.

Sept 29, 1770: Petitions George III for a commission in the East India Company (enclosing favorable recommendations from past military Commanders and associates). His petition is rejected.

Feb 11, 1772: Again petitions the King from Fleet Prison--this time a repented petition to discover N.W. Passage.

June 1773: Rescued from Prison by brother James, who gives bond for debts.

July 1773-March 1775: Claims to be serving as a mercenary soldier for the Bey of Algiers--fighting and 1775: Back in London; again petitions for an appointment in India - Rejected

1775-1783: See III-Chapters 12 and 13.

1783-1795: Apparently spends those closing 12 years of his life in London living improvidently on his half-pay as a retired Captain of the British Army.

May 18, 1795: Rogers dies in his 63rd year in poor lodgings. He is buried at St. Mary, Newington, in the southern part of London.

THE MAJOR

JAMES ROGERS.

Born in Methuen, Mass., about 1726, the third son of James Sr. and Mary Matheridge.

Served the War to Nov 11, 1760.

Outfitted a Privateer the MAJOR ROGERS at Charlestown, S.C. in 1761 to prey on Spanish shipping.

Land Deeds show that in 1760 and 1761 he owned land in Starkstown, N.H. On May 6, 1761 he purchased land in Londonderry, N.H., and soon moved there. On Dec 10, 1762, he conveyed to Robert Rogers of Portsmouth, land in Suncook (conveyed to James by Abner Kimball on March 2, 1762).

Marr'd Margaret, daughter of Reverend David McGregor. Children: David, b. Nov 7, 1762, died Nov 2, 1766. Jacob, b. Nov 22, 1764. David, b. about 1771, & 3 daughters.

Moved to Kent, now Londonderry, Vt., in 1774. Showing a tendency to the Loyalist cause - his wealthy estates in Vermont were confiscated and he was driven from his wife and five children into Canada.

Commissioned Major, June 2, 1779, by General Clinton at N.Y. of Rogers Rangers and commanded the King's Rangers Battalion for the remainder of the Revolutionary War.

In 1784, he settled at Frederickburgh on the Bay of Quinte with a number of his Rangers; and here he died in 1792.

III. CAPTAINS

DAVID BRADLEY 22nd Captain

of Sudbury, Mass.

First Lieutenant of Isaac Hovey's Battalion May 13, 1759, and stationed at Westfield with a platoon. Ordered by Amherst on Aug 11, 1759 to recruit for a new Company and to be commissioned the Captain when Company was recruited. Could not raise more than a platoon and though not commissioned Captain commanded this distinct Company and was posted at Fort George for remainder of 1759 campaign. Commissioned Captain in spring of 1760 when he had completed his Company.

Settled on his War Land Grant. In American Revolution, commissioned Colonel of the 12th Mass Regiment of Continentals on June 17, 1775. Stationed at Roxbury he and his Regiment figured conspicuously in Siege of Boston. Cashiered Oct 24, 1775 or in 1780 after a Court-Martial. Conflicting dates offered by Heitman's Register and H. Jewell's Journal at Ticonderoga.

JONATHAN BIGELOW 11th Captain

of _____, Massachusetts,

Ensign in Shirley's Mass Regiment in Nova Scotia in 1755. Led brilliant winter scouting against enemy during 1755-6 winter in Nova Scotia.

Commissioned Ensign in Spearman's Nov 17, 1756. First Lieutenant of John Stark's Regt, 24, 1757 (replacing S. Kennedy killed Jan 21st). Captain of a new Company Jan 14, 1758. Served the War to Nov 11, 1760.

Of Waltham, Mass., at time of Revolution. Colonel of a Mass Regiment at Bunker Hill.

A close associate and advisor of General George Washington.

MOSES BREWER: 13th Captain of Massachusetts.

In Provincial service in Nova Scotia in 1757. Recommended by Rogers for the Captaincy of a proposed Connecticut Mohegan Indian Company of Rogers Rangers on Jan 10-11, 1758. Commissioned Captain by Loudoun on Jan 14, 1758. Resigned Nov 24, 1759.

CHARLES BULKELEY: 7th Captain of Littleton, Mass.

Lieutenant in Phineas Osgood's Company of Shirley's Mass Provincial Regiment in 1755 Nova Scotia campaign.

First Lieutenant of Hobbs' Sept 1, 1756 (on Aug 1, 1756 roll). Captain of Hobbs' April 25, 1757. Killed March 13, 1758 at Battle of Rogers Rock.

JONATHAN BURBANK: 16th Captain of New Hopkington, N.H.

Captured by Indians at the garrison house there on April 22, 1746. Taken captive to Montreal, where he was later redeemed.

Entered Rogers' Own Company June 1, 1756, as Sergeant. Ensign of same Company July 23, 1756. Second Lieutenant J. Stark's Feb 26, 1757. First Lieutenant Rogers' Own Jan 14, 1758. Captain of Bulkeley's April 7, 1758.

Massacred by Indians (who mistook him for Rogers) on May 11, 1759, at ruins of Fort William Henry. When his death was confirmed by exchanged Ranger prisoners his wife Ruth had the following notice printed in the N. H. Gazette, Jan 11, 1760:—"All Persons that have any just Demands on the Estate of Capt Jonathan Burbank, late of New Hopkinton... deceased, are desired to bring in their accounts to Ruth Burbank, aforesaid Administratrix of said Estate: and all who are indebted to said Estate are desired to make speedy Payment or to renew their Bonds, to prevent further trouble.—Dec 27, 1760."

JACOB CHEEKSUNKUN: 2nd Captain Of Stockbridge, Mass., War Chief of the Stockbridge Mohegan Indians.

Originally recruited by Johnson to serve with him against Crown Point in 1755 in a Company of Stockbridges raised by Johnson's henchman Captain Staats. After their arrival at Albany, Johnson did not include them in his army. However, they accompanied Shirley to Oswego, when he passed thru and engaged their services. In December 1755, Shirley commissioned Cheekaunian to raise a Company of Stockbridges for the 1756 campaign, and commissioned him Captain May 27, 1756, discharged Nov 11, 1756 by Loudoun.

Re-commissioned Captain Jan 27, 1758. Discharged by Abercrombie on Sept 11, 1758.

Re-commissioned Captain by Amherst, evidently dated March 25, 1759, the date of his conference with Rogers at Albany to re-enter Rogers Rangers. Captured on L George July 5, 1759. endeavouring to escape during winter of 1759-60 he lost his toes when they froze. Released Oct 6, 1760.

MESSES HAZLINS 19th Captain

Born June 1, 1733 at Laverhill, Mass. Farmer by trade.

A Lieutenant in Shirley's Mass Provincial Regiment in Nova Scotia 1755.

Frigated before Apr 15, 1756, into Captain Edmond Wooster's Company of Saltonstall's Mass Provincial Regiment as a Lieutenant. At Ft. Edward on July 26; and at Ft. William Henry Oct 11, 1756. Served in Kennedy's daring expedition Aug 15-Sept 7, 1756. Kept a detailed JOURNAL (LO 1728). States he was left a day's march behind Kennedy's objective with 3 men as a reserve. He querulously adds: "For what reason we were left behind I Cant tell for we were all well and in good spirits."

Recommended by Rogers on Jan 10, 1758 for the First Lieutenantcy of McCurdy's proposed Company of Rangers. Commissioned Second Lieutenant in that Company by Loudoun on Jan 14, 1758. Refused to accept because it could not give him a promotion. Then the First Lieutenant (H. I. Wendell), received a Captaincy of a new Company on Apr 7, 1758, Husin re-entered McCurdy's as the First Lieutenant. After McCurdy's death at Ft. Frederick, Nova Scotia, Husen replaced him as Captain-commissioned by Anherst on April 6, 1759. Served the AR and discharged Feb. 20, 1761. Petitioned Anherst thru Appy, his Secretary, from Albany on Nov 19, 1760, to allow him to recruit his Company, rather than have Ogden take the best from its recruits for his Company of Rangers—modestly adding: "...I think according to what little experience I have gained they might do double the service as those Men that are commonly raised." Upon being rejected he purchased a Lieutenantcy in the 14th Regiment, dated Feb 21, 1761. On Aug 11, 1761 he petitioned the Secretary of AR, asking to be promoted to Captain-to rank from Apr 6, 1759, the date of his Captain's commission in Rogers Rangers. At the same time (Aug 8, 1761) General Murray recommended him to Anherst in words that clearly reveal the high regard British officers as well as provincials held of him: "To whom it may concern During all that severe 1759-60 winter, Capt.

Captain Hazen was, from the circumstances of affairs, ever upon duty. He was always ready and willing to go upon every service, even the most hazardous, on the least notice. It would not be doing him justice if I did not add, that I have had several opportunitys to observe his Behaviour in action, wherein he Discovered, so much skill, Bravery and good Conduct, as would justly entitle him to every military reward he could ask or demand. I wish I could procure him such a one, as I think he deserves." As nothing resulted from his petition, Hazen repeated it to Amherst in late 1762. Amherst replied on Oct 28, 1762: Stating he was aware of his good services. His desire to continue and raise himself in army commendable and that he will provide for him "whenever an opportunity offers." (W.O.34, 87/92; 94; 93/199) Still no Captaincy forthcoming, Hazen resigned in disgust in 1763, and retired on half-pay. Settling at St. John's, Quebec, he became a prosperous farmer maintaining saw-mills, a forge and a potash house. He entered the Catholic Church on Jan 11, 1765. The same day, Governor Murray made Hazen and others, Tribunals of Police of Montreal. In Dec, 1770, Hazen married Charlotte de la Sausseye at Montreal.

When the Revolution broke out Hazen fell under suspicion from both sides. He joined Montgomery and took part in the attack on Quebec and in the Siege of Montreal. After the retreat he spent the winter in Albany, recruiting for the 2nd Canadian Regiment of which he was made Colonel on Jan 22, 1776. The Regiment known as 'Congress's Own', he raised partly in Canada and among Canadian refugees. Hasen led the Regiment in the Staten Island Campaign, the battles of Germantown, Brandywine and the Siege of Yorktown. In the summer of 1779, Hasen was sent to build a military road to the Canadian border. Later he was recalled to N.J. where he was busy trying to collect money for his unpaid Regiment. On June 29, 1781, Congress brevetted him a Brigadier-General. At the close of the war he resigned on Jan 1, 1783 and settled in Vermont with his two brothers where he had bought land during the War.

Hasen died in Troy, N.Y., Feb 3, 1803, seventy years old. -Chase: Hist of Haverhill; Recherches Historiques, III, p 156, VII, 159

HUMPHREY HOBBS: 3rd Captain

A Deacon of Souhegan (now Amherst) N.H.

In 1745 he surveyed the roads for the town. Elected Deacon of the Congregational Church Jan 6, 1742. But resigned the following year to enter military service against the French and Indians; becoming famous for his many successful fights with the Indians in King George's War, much to the chagrin of the Indians, who afterwards said "Souhegan Deacon no very good, He fight Sabba-day"

In June 26, 1748, he was leading 40 men from No. 4, N.H., to Ft. Shirley, when he was attacked by a large body of Indians. After a four hour battle the Indians withdrew.

He was a Captain in Inglow's Expedition to build Ft. Halifax on the Kennebec in 1751.

In May 1756, raised a Company of Rangers in Boston. Louieun dated his Captain's commission Sept 1, 1756. Because of his knowledge, not only of the Kennebec R., but the Indians about No. 4, N.H., he submitted to Louieun detailed written accounts of 'The Lower Kennebec' on Sept 17, 1756; and the next day, 'An Account of the way from No. 4 N.H. to the Mouth of Otter Creek'.

Decumbed to Smallpox at Ft. M. Henry and died on Feb 22, 1757. -LO 1824, 1839; Hoyt, Antiquarian Researches.

JOHN JOHNSON: 18th Captain

Born in Dunstable, N.H.

In 1725, he fought in Lovewell's Fight with the Pequots as the First Sergeant of Lovewell's famed Company of Indian fighters. Of Rumford, N.H. by 1755.

In 1758, served as Private in John Daffe's N.H. Company, scouting and guarding the Andover, Wilford and Derryfield garrisons in King George's War.

A Sergeant in Rogers' First Company of Blanchard's N.H. Regiment from Apr 24-Oct 6 1759. Acting Sergeant in Rogers' Oct 6-Nov

25, Volunteer Company.

Ensign, Nov 25, 1755 of 55-56 Winter Company. Ensign, March 24, 1756 of Rogers new Company. First Lieutenant of Richard Rogers July 24, 1756, but not commissioned until Nov 2, 1756. Served in that capacity until capitulation of Ft. Wm. Henry on Aug 9, 1757 and disbandment of Richard Rogers' Company, per terms of surrender. Re-entered Corps in winter of 1758-9, as Captain of Neale's.

Mortally wounded June 5, 1760, at Battle of Point au Per (shot thru the body, head and left arm) and died on board ship while returning to Crown Point for medical aid.

Johnson was the eldest Captain in Rogers Rangers, being between 50-55 years old at the time of his death.

JOHN MC CURDY: 9th Captain

of Dunbarton, N.H. Son of James.

Sergeant in Rogers' original Company, Jan - May to June 6, 1756. Continued as Sergeant until July 24th. Second Lieutenant of Rogers' Own, July 24, 1756. First Lieutenant, Feb 24, 1757. Captain of a new Ranger Company, Jan 14, 1758. Served at Siege of Louisbourg and Monckton's St. John's River Raid after Siege. Stationed with Company at Ft. Frederic (mouth of St. John's R.) where he was killed Jan 30, 1759, while on wood-cutting duty - a chopped tree fell on him.

JACOB NAUNAUPHTAUNK: 11th Captain

A Stockbridge Mohican of Stockbridge, Mass., Son of Jacob Cheeksaukun. In 1748 he was elected to the respected office of 'Hogreeve' of the town of Stockbridge- vesting him with the power to seize all "wild swine" going without a keeper, without yoke or tethering line, or some means of restraint. N.E. Hist. Gen. Reg., V, 36, P. 273.

Lieutenant of Jacob Cheeksaukun's May 27 to Nov 11, 1756. Captain of a Company of Stockbridge Indian Rangers on Jan 27, 1758. Discharged by Abercrombie on Sept 11, 1758. Re-commissioned Captain by Amherst, evidently dated March 25, 1759, the date of his agreement with Rogers. Captured with Kennedy in Aug, 1759, by a hunting party of St. Francis Indians. Sold to the French who kept him in irons aboard a prison ship at Montreal. Loaned 6th Livres by Captain Tute for subsistence while a prisoner. In August 1760, his release was obtained by a French Priest and he was sent to Amherst at Ft. Lévis (arriving on Aug 29th) as a measure of good faith by the French Indians who hoped for peace with the British. Jacob was then employed by Amherst as peace envoy to the remnants of the St. Francis tribe.

JAMES NEILE: 17th Captain

Of Anoakag, N.H.

From Aug 23-Oct 1, 1755, Captain of a scouting party of N.H. men raised in the summer to guard the frontiers of N.H.

First Lieutenant Shepherd's new Company, Feb 28, 1757. Abercrombie commissioned him Captain of a new Ranger Company Apr 7, 1758. Resigned from service during Winter of 58-9.

ALDUS OGDEN: 23rd Captain

Of N.J.

Captain in the N.J. Provincial Regiment at Oswego in 1756. Had an engagement with the enemy in boats, near Portland Pt., on June 24, 1756.

Captain in the N.J. 'Blues' from 1756-9. Commanded the Provincials in Rogers' St. Francis Raid in 1759. Wounded in raid.

His petition to Amherst for a Ranger Company in March, 1760, was granted and he served with his Company in Amherst's advance on Montreal. Kept in service at end of war and served with his Ranger Company in West Indies campaigns- 1761-2. Discharged with his company in N.Y., about June 16, 1762.

In 1767, English Privy Council granted him 25,000 acres of land in West Florida.- Acts Privy Council, Colonial, 1766-83.

RICHARD ROGERS: 5th Captain

Born in Methuen, Mass., May 6, 1734, 5th son of James Rogers and Mary McFatridge.

Sergeant in Captain Wm. Sims' 18th Company of Blanchard's 1755 N.H. Regiment. Served from April 24-October 4, 1755.

Acting Lieutenant, Rogers' Volunteer Ranger Company, Oct 4-Nov 28, 1755. Lieutenant of winter Ranger Company, Nov 28, 1755. In same capacity until July 24, 1756, when he was commissioned by Abercrombie, Captain of a new Company of Rogers Rangers to be raised by him. Succumbed to Smallpox and died at Ft. Wm. Henry on June 22, 1757.

JOHN SHEPHERD: 8th Captain

Of Canterbury, N.H. Eldest Son of Samuel.

Captain in Reserve's N.H. Regiment in 1756. Captured in August 1756 and taken to Montreal. Escaped the middle of Oct. 1756.

Met Rogers (while escaping) at L. George on a scout and returned to Loudoun's camp at Ft. Edward with valuable information on the French in Canada. Captain of a new Company of Rogers Rangers, Feb 25, 1757. Because of poor health he tendered Abercrombie his resignation on June 25, 1759 -and it was accepted on July 12th.

During Revolution -was called the infamous John Shepherd, by the Committee of Safety. In Oct., 1776, he deserted from the American Army and went to N.Y., where Rogers gave him a Captain's commission in his Queen's Rangers. Soon after, he was apprehended, with orders sewed in his breeches to enlist Ranger recruits and was committed to jail in Connecticut. He escaped, but was again seized and sent to prison in Exeter, N.H., and though with irons on his hands and feet and chained to the floor, he escaped a second time. His subsequent activities are unknown, for Rogers' Queen's Rangers had undergone a transformation and he was no longer carried as a Captain in the Corps.

THOMAS SPEAKMAN: 4th Captain Of Boston, Mass.

Captained a Company in Winslow's Battalion of Mass Provincial's in Nova Scotia in 1755. Served at capture of Beausejour in 1755 and was instrumental in rounding up the Acadians for deportation; having at one time a desperate beach fight with Boishebert and 300 Acadians and Indians. Served in a winter raid 1755-6, ordered by Monckton to encircle the head of the bay. Burned 150 houses. On Dec 1, 1755, milled for Halifax and Boston with Winslow's battalion.

Commissioned by Shirley in May, 1756, to raise a Company of Rangers from the Nova Scotia winter garrisons of Mass. Provincial returning to Boston. Commissioned Captain of this Company by Loudoun on Sept 1, 1756.

Mortally wounded at Battle of La Barbeau Creek, Jan 21, 1757. Scalped alive the next day when he was found by Indians, who also decimated his head.

JOHN STARK: 6th Captain

Born at Londonderry, N.H., Aug 28, 1728; third son of Archibald. A companion of the Rogers brothers in his youth. Captured by the St. Francis Indians while on a hunting trip in 1752. By his courage, he earned his captors respect and was well treated, being later redeemed. Engaged in March, 1753, by a Provincial surveying party to guide them in surveying and making a road to Coos. In June 1754, he guided a party under Captain Peter Power, sent by Governor Wentworth, under a flag of truce to ascertain if the French were building a fort at the upper Coos. Lieutenant of Rogers' original Company, Jan-Apr, 1755 to Nov 25, 1755. Second Lieutenant, Rogers' Own, March 24, 1756. First Lieutenant, July 24, 1756. Captain of Speakman's Feb 24, 1757. Recruiting in winter of 58-9, with Headquarters at Mr. Holville's in Boston, in Feb-March, -N.O. 34, 1759/0 30. Retired from Rogers Rangers Nov 24, 1759.

He was one of the outstanding Major-Generals in the American Revolution (for an exhaustive record of his services and his life, this writer can do no better than to recommend the fine Biography by H. P. Moore).

Died May 6, 1822, 93 years of age.

WILLIAM STARK: 12th Captain

Born Apr 1, 1724, Londonderry, N.H., first son of Archibald. Elder brother of John.

Married in 1754, Mary, sister of Captain William Stinson of Starkstown (Dunbarton).

Entered Rogers' Own after Sept 28, 1756, as a Cadet. Second Lieutenant Rogers' Own, succeeding John McCurdy (promoted Feb 24, 1757). Captain of a new Company, Jan 14, 1758. Served Louisbourg and Quebec campaigns. Discharged with Company, Nov 30, 1759, at Boston.

Receiving a War Land Grant in Fryeburg, Me., he settled there. At outbreak of Revolution he favored the patriot cause, although his son John, did not. In the winter of 1776, applied for leave to raise a Regiment, but soon after was forced to leave his country, for he was caught forging a Mass. bill of credit from 16 to 40 shillings and passing it. Retiring within the British lines at New York he was commissioned a Major in the N.H. Volunteers. He is reported to have died May 18, 1781, "while watching a cricket game on Long Island." His large estate in Fryeburg, Me., was confiscated. It was valued at 3,345 pounds.

SIMON STEVENS: 25th (last) Captain

Born in 1737.

Entered Rogers' Own Company Mar 20, 1757, as a Cadet. Recommended by Rogers Jan 10, 1758, for a Lieutenantcy in J. Stark's. First Lieutenant John Stark's Jan 14, 1758. Captured June 25, 1758, while leading a scout to N.W. Bay, on L. George. Escaped from Quebec, May 1, 1759, in a canoe down the St. Lawrence R. and after a series of odysseys related in Volume II of this History, he arrived at Louisbourg in a captured schooner on June 5, 1759. Served in Quebec campaign as an additional Lieutenant in W. Stark's. He was reported wounded at Que., July 22, 1759. Stevens wrote a JOURNAL of his capture and escape and it was printed and sold by Eedes & Gill, in Queen St., Boston, 19 pp 20 cm., in the spring of 1760. On May 3, 1760, he memorialized Amherst from Albany, for a berth in Rogers Rangers. He received the First Lieutenantcy of J. Brewer's, dated March 1, 1760. On July 9, 1760, he was the last officer to receive a Captaincy. He replaced Noah Johnson to the command of his Company. -W.O. 34, 82/218; 85/2.

Settled at Number Four, N.H. after War.

JAMES TUTE: 21st Captain

Born in Hardwick, Mass., Dec. 21, 1738, son of James and Karia. James Tute, Jr., has frequently been misspelled Tate, Pute, Chut, Stoote, Tout, Tuite and even Tutle, which his birth is registered under. Tute's first military service was in the 1756 campaign as a Private in Captain John Catlin's Provincial Company (His brother Amos was a ranger under Burke).

Entered Richard Rogers' Company, Feb 24, 1757, as a Private. Served until Company was disbanded Aug 24, 1757. Remained on at Rogers' Island as a Volunteer in the Corps, until Nov 24, 1757, when he re-enlisted as a Private in Rogers' Own Company. A Sergeant shortly after. Served so conspicuously at the Battle of Rogers' Rock, March 13, 1758, that Rogers recommended him highly and he was commissioned Apr 7, 1758, First Lieutenant of Shepherd's. Succeeded Shepherd as Captain when he retired from the Corps on July 12, 1759. Captured near La Chalote on Sept 22, 1759, with a detachment of Rangers, while carrying dispatches to Gage from Amherst. Exchanged on Nov 15, 1759. Re-Captured at Crown Point on Lake Champlain, Mar 31, 1760. Exchanged on June 21, 1760, in time to Captain Rogers' Own in Haviland's advance on Montreal. Discharged with Corps, Nov 11, 1760, at Albany.

Commissioned First Lieutenant in Gorham's Corps of Rangers on the Regular establishment (sometime between 1762-64). Retired on half-pay when Corps was disbanded and petitioned Governor Wentworth with Robert Rogers for a veteran's land grant on June 25, 1764. Tute states his residence as Deerfield Mass. Since Tute (curiously enough) received his Lieutenantcy in Gorham's from Wentworth he was entitled to land in N.H. On July 4, 1764, Tute's petition was granted and Wentworth awarded him 2,000 acres.

After his return from England in Jan 1766 Rogers contacted Tute some time after his arrival about the Northwest Passage expedition. Tute joined Rogers at Michilimackinac and on Sept 12, 1766, 'Governor Rogers' commissioned him Commander of a "Party for the Discovery of the Northwest Passage from the Atlantic into the Pacific Ocean if any such passage there-be, or for the Discovery of the Great River Ourigan (Oregon) that falls into the Pacific Ocean about the Latitude Fifty." Tute's party consisted of his Secretary, James Stanley Goddard; Jonathan Carver (who he was to pick up near the Falls of St. Anthony) Draughtsman; Joseph Reaume, Interpreter; Andrew Stewart, Commissary; and Augustus Ange, Lorange and Gabriel Loring, Engages. Five days later, on Sept 17th 'Captain Tute's' left on their abortive Expedition. They did not return to Michilimackinac until Aug 29, 1767, eleven months later. Goddard was commissioned by Rogers to keep a detailed JOURNAL, which he did. A Resumé follows: Left Michilimackinac in a bark canoe Sept 17, at 6 AM. Saw Chief Namickquoine at Little Ottawa village on Little Detroit Island on Amantstick River, about 30 leauges from Michilimackinac. Gave Chief a little rum and enticed him to come to Michilimackinac in the spring to see his father (Rogers). Visited Chief Otter of a Manominies village on Manomemecon R.; then Ft. La Raye, 18 leagues WSW of above River and one mile up River du Renard on N. shore. Next visited Chief Econeme, or the Norse's village of Minomines a half mile up this R. Visited a village of Puentes; the village of Sackin, of Washebones; village of Otagamies; then determined to winter on River du Dard on west side of Mississippi, 12 leagues below Ousconsang. Built their house when Trader Bruce came down and persuaded Tute to go and winter on a River called La Rie. Tute set off Nov 30, on foot with Bruce, a canoe with portion of party's provision preceding them the day before. Goddard did not meet Tute again until April at La Prairie de LaHun on east side of Mississippi. Tute sent Goddard back to the British post of Ft. LaRaye for Liquor to induce Indians to visit Rogers at Michilimackinac. Goddard reached the Fort in 11 days and returned in 12, to find that Jonathan Carver had joined Tute. Goddard wrote Rogers before expedition left LaHun, enclosing the different speeches of the Indians with Tute. Expedition left LaHun on May 21, 1767, in two canoes up the Mississippi. Eighth day arrived at the Chippawa R; decided to skirt Sioux country by proceeding up this river. Visited village on L. Ottawa, staying six days. Ran out of provisions at end of Lake Superior and sent a canoe off to meet the French canoes from Michilimackinac, which returned the sixth day with a small replenishment. Gave a stand of Colors to Chief of the carrying-place (Chippewa Indians). After consultation found they did not have the necessary provisions to continue and agreed to return to Michilimackinac, arriving Aug 29, 1767. Shortly after Governor Rogers was confined to await trial for treason and any further Rogers-Tute attempts to discover the NW Passage did not materialise. When Rogers was confined at Michilimackinac in December, 1767, Tute queried Gage at Montreal on Dec 10, about Rogers' power to send men on the NW passage expedition. Although Gage replied on May 2, 1768, that Rogers had not been given such power, still Tute's expenditures on his NW passage expedition were condoned after Gage probed into the matter. Carver penned a certificate at Michilimackinac on May 26, 1768, to the effect that he had accompanied Tute who was obliged to give large presents to the Indians to win them to the English but that he "used the utmost discretion on that account that was in his power - and by what I have seen in his accounts that they are very just as to the publick and particular expences of this voyage."

Tute apparently disposed of his holdings in N.H., for he definitely stayed in the west as a trader. During the winter of 1771-1772 he was residing among the Indians in the Illinois Country. He was reported to have cut off an Indian's nose on the way back in the spring "but not without good reason" (Apparently Tute had taken a squaw and suspected her of infidelity - for the cutting off of an Indian woman's nose was one of the punishments for such an offense).

Tute soon plied his trade south-westward toward Fort Dauphin. His career as a fur-trader ended abruptly on the western plains when he succumbed to the smallpox epidemic of 1781-82. There is no mention of Tute ever marrying.

SOLOMON UHAUNAUWAUNMUT: 24th Captain

A Stockbridge Mohegan Indian Warrior from Stockbridge, Mass.

Private in Jacob Cheeksunkun's May 27-Sept 1, 1756. Ensign Sept 2-Nov 11, 1756.

Lieutenant of Jacob Naunauphtaunk's Feb 6, 1758. Captained the remnants of the two Jacob's Company's after their capture in 1759 to their disbandment at end of campaign.

Captain in 1760, of the Stockbridge Mohegan Company raised then. Commissioned May 30, 1760. Discharged with Company Nov 11, 1760.

Solomon was a principal chief of the Stockbridges by the time of the Revolution. On Sept 1, 1775, he pledged the allegiance of the Stockbridges to the Americans.

JOSEPH WAITE: 20th Captain

Born in Mass. Later in Alstead, N.H.

Saw border scouting service in Captain Eleazer Melvin's Provincial Company in 1754. In 1757, he was on the Lake George front as a Corporal in John Burks' Company of Provincial Rangers. He served with such distinction that he was called to the attention of Rogers who recommended him for a Lieutenant in Burbank's proposed Company on Jan 10, 1758. Commissioned by Loudoun Jan 14, 1758, Ensign in Rogers' Own Company. Served heroically at Rogers' Rock. Promoted April 7, 1758, to fill Burbank's First Lieutenantcy vacancy in Rogers' Own. Succeeded Wendell as Captain on May 11, 1759. Accompanied Rogers to Detroit in 1760. Served with Company in West Indies 1761-2. Discharged with Company about June 16, 1762.

Settled on a veteran's land grant in N.H.

At outbreak of Revolution Waite was a Captain in Allan's Regiment and present at the capture of Ticonderoga in 1775. Although this fact is disputed by some authorities.

He was a member from Claremont of the N.H. Provincial Congress. Became Lieutenant-Colonel of Timothy Bedel's N.H. Militia Regiment raised to help cover the retreat of Montgomery's Army from Canada (This Regiment was marched into Canada and a Fort called "The Cedars" was disgracefully surrendered by the Adjutant, as Bedel and Waite were both absent at the time). Three months later Waite was mortally wounded in a severe skirmish before the Battle of Valcour. He died a few days later on Sept 28, 1776. He was buried in Clarendon, Vt., where a monument marks his grave. -N.E. Quart, III, 19-30. Soc. Col. Wars-Index of Ancestors, 502. Potter, Mil. Hist. N.H., I, pp 286-7.

HENRY ISAAC WENDELL: 15th Captain

Born in the Mohawk Valley near Schoarie.
A trusted friend of the Oneidas.
Ensign in Pepperell's 51st Regiment. Stationed at Ft. Williams (Oneida Carrying Place, later Ft. Stanwix) in 1756. He was frequently employed as a diplomatic agent with his friends the Oneidas. When he was slated to be transferred to Oswego, the whole Oneida Nation protested so vigorously that he was kept at the Oneida Carrying Place for a time, and escaped capture when Oswego fell. During the winter of 56-57 he was ordered to Boston to recruit for the 51st. Ordered to New York by Loudoun he memorialized him on April 8, 1757, asking for duty in Albany (to be near his family, who were sick there) over the Batteau-Men transporting provisions up to the Mohawk River Forts; being well acquainted with the service and terrain. He also asks for his "Ship Gold" and Baggage Money, as he had to pay for its conveyance from Boston to N.Y.-and spent all of his pay in recruiting thru the winter of 56-7. Irked at Loudoun's delay in providing for him, Wendell penned him again ten days later, on Apr 18, stating that due to his infirmity he was incapable of future duty and resigned any claims for half-pay (his 51st Regiment being disbanded), pension, or any other reward for past services. Loudoun, however, sent Wendell up to Sir Wm Johnson at Johnson's Hall, who recommended him for an agent's commission with the Oneidas. But manifold jealous asperations against Wendell kept him from obtaining his commission. As late as Jan 1758, he was petitioning Abercromby for the post, or, for a Company of Rangers. Abercromby recommended him to Loudoun on Jan 8, 1758, and Loudoun re-shuffled Rogers' recommendations for McCurdy's new Ranger Company - and commissioned Wendell First Lieutenant of the Company on Jan 14, 1758. However, on March 25, 1758 he was promoted to Captain the Company he proposed for Ft. Stanwix service.

After repeated mutinous behaviour and frequent desertions by his men he asked to be relieved of his command and willingly gave up the Captaincy to Joseph Waite on May 11, 1759. In the spring of 1760, Wendell was petitioning Amherst asking to be returned to duty. He also relates how one of his deserters, George Wendecker, had accosted him at his home in Albany demanding payment for the time he had deserted (18 months). Wendell threw him out of doors and told him to join Waite's and serve his time out. But the audacious Wendecker, immediately obtained a lawful writ of 500 pounds against Wendell and recommended other Ranger deserters to do the same. Wendell requested Amherst to look into this matter. Although Amherst was amazed at Wendecker's gall, he recommended that Wendell seek legal aid. -LO 1101, 3319, 1098, 1104, 3374-A, 3727, 5360. JOSIAH BANCK (BANK): 19th FIRST Lieutenant
First Lieutenant in Ogden's in March 1760.
Served in West Indies with Company 1761-2.
Discharged about June 26, 1762, at N.Y.

JOHN BUTLER: 20th First Lieutenant of Boston, Mass.

Entered McCurdy's as Ensign after April
1758. Second Lieutenant by Apr 7, 1759.
First Lieutenant by Apr 29, 1760.

Received capitulations of Forts Miami and Quatancor and garrisoned Miami thru winter of 1760-1 to Oct, 1761. Discharged with his platoon at N.Y., Jan 24, 1762.

EDWARD CROFTON: 12th First Lieutenant of England.

An English Volunteer who had served as a Volunteer in his friend, Sir John White-ford's Regiment in England. Hoping for quicker advancement he arrived in North America in 1757 as a free-lance-volunteer, not attached to any Corps. He involved himself in a serious quarrel with Major Darby and petitioned Loudoun to allow him to engage in a duel with him,-LO 5992; b816. Instead, Loudoun attached Crofton to Rogers Rangers as a Volunteer when the Cadet Company was formed. Rogers liked his fearless personality and quick adaptability to Ranging methods and he recommended him to Loudoun on Jan 10, 1758, for a Lieutenantcy in his own company. Upon being notified of his appointment, Crofton wrote Loudoun politely refusing because it would not give him rank and asked that he might be placed in some Regiment as a Volunteer, or be allowed to return to England and Whitesford's Regiment. Crofton was evidently prevailed upon to accept the commission for Loudoun commissioned him Second Lieutenant of John Stark's Jan 14, 1758. He served with distinction at Rogers' Rock, Mar 13, 1758, commanding Rogers' left flank. He was one of the two officers to return with Rogers. He carried Rogers' official Journal of the action to General Howe. Anxious to serve against Louisbourg he was given the Second Lieutenantcy in J. Brewar's Company left vacant by the death of Archibald Campbell at Rogers' Rock. His transfer was dated Mar 30, 1758. Accompanying the Company to Louisbourg he served with distinction and was promoted to the First Lieutenantcy during the winter of 1758-9. In the Quebec campaign, Wolfe realizing Crofton's latent abilities chose him to perform a difficult assignment prior to the Battle of the Plains, its nature not clearly discernible. - Wolfe to Monckton from Montmorency, Aug 4, 1759, in Northcliffe Coll., Vol XXII, p 149. Wolfe awarded Crofton with a commission in the 15th as Second Lieutenant, post-dating it Sept 25, 1759. He served in that capacity until Feb, 1761, when he was killed at Boston in a duel with a fellow officer over a question of rank. His commanding officer, Lieut-Colonel Montagu Willmot of the 45th, clearly indicates his own sympathy when he reported the affair to General Amherst on Feb 8, 1761: "I have the honour to acquaint your Excellency with an unfortunate accident that happen'd in the 45th Regt.. Lieutenant Crofton (who had been put into the Regiment by General Wolf over all the Ensigns from being an officer of Rangers) having as I am informed treated Lieutenant Burns with very opprobrious language in Public, laid that unhappy Gentleman under a sort of fatal necessity of acting in opposition to his Duty by seeking a revenge in a manner contrary to the articles of War, the result of which was, that Lieutenant Crofton received a Pistol shot, of which he died the Day after." -W.O. 34, ff 87, 177.

ROBERT D'ARCY: 15th 1st Lieutenant Of New York City.

Entered Rogers Rangers July 12, 1759, replacing James Tute as First Lieutenant of Shepherd's (Tute's). He was a mapmaker and draughtsman of unusual merit and soon established himself high in Amherst's esteem when he made him a map of South Bay and adjacent country when Amherst was endeavoring to learn more about that terrain in Aug-Sep 1759. On leave with half-pay during 1759-60 winter. Second Lieutenant of J. Brewer's in March, 1760. First Lieutenant July 9, 1760. Discharged with Company on Nov 11, 1760.

Ensign in 95th Regiment Apr 22, 1762.

By 1772, he was stationed in the Drawing Room of the Tower of London where he was busily engaged in drawing maps. In June 17-73, he was one of twelve British officers of high standing to recommend the granting of Rogers' petition to the King to discover the NW Passage. He signed his name on the petition as "Captain D'Arcy, aid-de-camp to General Anherst". In Carver's petition to the Lord Commissioners on May 18, 1772, to allow Rogers to lead an expedition to search for a NW Passage he recommends D'Arcy to accompany the expedition. His name was frequently misspelled Dorsey, Darcey and Darcy.

JAMES FAULKNER: 8th 1st Lieutenant

Of Charlestown (No. 4), N.H.

First Lieutenant Neale's new Company Apr 7, 1758. Resigned in winter of 58-59.

JOHN FLETCHER: 13th 1st Lieutenant

Of Chesterfield, N.H.

Lieutenant of M. Brewer's Apr 1, 1759.

First Lieutenant of D. Brewer's May 24, 1760. Captured near La Prairo Aug 27, 1759.

Exchanged Nov 15, 1759. Discharged with Company on Nov 11, 1760.

WILLIAM HAIR: 7th First Lieutenant

First Lieutenant of Wendell's new Company Mar 25, 1758. Evidently resigned about May 11, 1759.

ROBERT HOLMES: 11th FIRST Lieutenant

Son of a Livery-Keeper in N.H.

Private of Rogers' Own, July 23, 1756.

Second Lieutenant of Neale's new Company Apr 7, 1758. First Lieutenant by winter of 58-9 when Johnson replaced Neale. Accompanied Rogers to Detroit in 1760. Escorted the French garrison from Detroit to Pittsburgh and Amherst at N.Y., where he arrived on Feb 4, 1761. Amherst awarded him with an Ensigncy in the 60th, dated Dec 12, 1760 which he purchased for 100 pounds, borrowing the amount from Rogers. After Holmes' death, Rogers was claiming the Regimental paymaster on Dec 12, 1763 for payment.

Much to his chagrin, Holmes' first assignment was the isolated command of Ft. Miami on the River Maumee (relieving Ranger Lieutenant John Butler). In 1763, when Detroit was attacked, Holmes learned of it from a French trader and was on his guard. However, on May 27, 1763, a young Indian girl who lived with him, came to tell him that a squaw lay dangerously ill in a wigwam near the fort, and urged him to go to her relief. Holmes, having complete confidence in the girl, waived his customary caution and followed her out of the fort to be led into an ambush and killed. His garrison, now without a leader, soon surrendered. -7.0.34, 85/245. Bouquet Colls A16-p90; A17-p76; A19-2-p362.

SAMUEL KENNEDY: First First Lieutenant Lieutenant in Winslow's expedition to build Ft. Halifax on Kennebec R. in 1754. First Lieutenant Speakman's Sept 1, 1756. Killed Jan 21, 1757 at La Baieue Creek.

THOMAS LAWRENCE: 5th First Lieutenant Of N.H.

Recommended by Rogers on Jan 10, 1758 for an eleventh Company Captaincy. When rejected by Loudoun, Rogers recommended him for the First Lieutenantcy of J. Brewer's new Company on Jan 14, 1758. Commissioned by Loudoun Jan 14, 1758, First Lieutenant of J. Brewer's. Probably served until disbandment of Company at Boston, Nov 30, 1759.

JOHN MC DUFFE (DUFFE): 4th First Lieutenant Of Londonderry, N.H. Born Sept 14, 1723, second son of Daniel and Ruth.

Recommended by Rogers Jan 10, 1758 for the Captaincy of a proposed 10th Company. Commissioned Jan 14, 1758, First Lieutepart of W. Stark's new Company. Discharged with disbanded Company at Boston Nov 30, 59?

ANDREW MC MULLEN: 10th 1st Lieutenant

Of Worcester, Mass. He came to America from Ireland about 1754.

Entered Rogers' Rangers Feb 25, 1757, as a Private in Rogers' Own. Commissioned by Abercrombie, June 26, 1758, Second Lieutenant of Burbank's. First Lieutenant, after Mark Noble's retirement at close of campaign.

First Lieutenant of J. Rogers' in 1760.

Discharged Nov 11, 1760, with Company.

Married Hannah Osgood, of Rumford, daughter of the widow James Osgood, Nov 12, 1761.

"The same year he commenced trade in the store that now stands on the N.E. corner of Main and Pleasant Sts (Concord, N.H.), which was then a small one-story shop, standing as it now does, partly in the street. Here he continued to trade for several years; one year in partnership with Timothy Walker Jr., and afterwards with John Stevens, who added a second story to it. In 1767 or 68 he and General Stark received each a grant of land from Governor Wentworth of N.H. for war services. The grant was located in Conway and vicinity. In Aug, 1774, he removed to Conway, to take possession. Two of his wife's brothers, James and Benjamin Osgood of Concord, had preceeded him, here, in the cultivation of one of the most valuable farms on Saco River (where his only remaining son, Gilbert, now resides) he passed the remainder of his life - repeatedly representing the town in the State Legislature, and faithfully discharging his duty as a citizen and a magistrate." He was Colonel of the 11th N.H. Militia Regiment until Aug, 1774, when he moved to Conway. He died Nov 6, 1800, aged 70 years. His wife died in 1827, aged 84. -Boutoun, Hist of Concord, Soc. of Col. Wars Index, p 324.

MARK NOBLE: 9th 1st Lieutenant of Dunbarton, N.H.

First Lieutenant of Burbank's Apr 7, 1758 (replacing J. Pottinger killed at Rogers' Rock). Probably resigned at end of campaign.

JOHN PATTEN: 14th 1st Lieutenant

Entered Rogers Rangers Mar 30, 1758, as Second Lieutenant of McCurdy's new Company when Hazen refused to accept. First Lieutenant Apr 6, 1759, when Hazen was promoted to the Captaincy. Served with such distinction at the Battle of Ste. Foy that he was rewarded the following day (Apr 29, 1760) with an Ensign's commission in the 48th Regiment at Quebec. Lieut in 48th Apr 26-1762.

NOAH PORTER: 2nd 1st Lieutenant of Connecticut.

Entered Corps May 25, 1757 as a Private in Rogers' Own. One of the chief instigators of the Rangers' 1757 Whipping Post Martyr. Confined at Ft. Edward until Rogers obtained his release in Jan 1758, when he was discharged. However, Rogers recommended him to Loudoun Jan 10, 1758 for the First Lieutenantcy of M. Brewer's new Company.

Commissioned same, Jan 14, 1758. Resigned with M. Brewer at close of 1758.

JAMES POTTINGER: 3rd Lieut. of England.

Served with King George in Flanders as a Volunteer. After the battle of Val he obtained his Majesty's permission to go to Bergenopzoom, in which siege he served until it was taken by the French, after which King George commissioned him an Ensign in the 44th. In 1752, Pottinger purchased a Lieutenantcy in the Regiment. Served in Europe until start of French and Indian War, when his Corps came across to serve in Braddock's fateful expedition. After Braddock's Defeat in 1755, Pottinger's career started downwards. His indiscretions with a camp-follower led him to become an alcoholic - and loaded besides with a debt, contracted to purchase his Lieutenantcy, he was obliged to leave the service." Loudoun, in response to Pottinger's plea for an opportunity to regain "the character he once had in the army", placed him under Rogers' wing as a Rogers Ranger Cadet on Sept 14, 1757.

Rogers recommended him for the First Lieutenant of Bulkeley's on Jan 11, 1758.

Commissioned same by Loudoun Jan 14, 1758.

Killed Mar 13, 1758, at Rogers' Rock, leaving an orphaned daughter by his former mistress.

JOSEPH SENTER: 6th 1st Lieutenant

Of Londonderry, N.H., Born March 1724, second son of Benjamin and Abigail.

Recommended by Rogers Jan 10, 1758, for the First Lieutenantcy of J. Rogers' new Company. Commissioned same by Loudoun Jan 14, 1758. Discharged with Company at Boston on Nov 30, 1759.

Colonel of a N.H. Militia Regiment raised in 1777 to defend Rhode Island in the American Revolution.

ARCHIBALD STARK: 21st 1st Lieutenant

Born in Londonderry in 1730, second son of Archibald, Sr. Brother of John Stark.

Entered Rogers' Own on Oct 5, 1756. Sergt in J. Stark's, Feb 24, 1757. Recommended by Rogers Jan 10, 1758, for an Ensigncy. Ensign Apr 7, or 28, 1758, commissioned by Abercrombie, Second Lieutenant in Johnson's by spring of 1759. First Lieutenant in Stevens' July 9, 1760. Discharged with Company Nov 11, 1760.

THE SECOND LIEUTENANTS

NATHANIEL ABBOTT: 1st Second Lieutenant

Born in Andover, Mass., in 1696. When about 30 years old he moved to Penacook, N.H., with its first settlers. During King George's War he served in various scouting Companies guarding the frontiers of N.H.

June 25-Oct 2, 1748, he served in Captain John Coffe's Company as a Private.

From Apr 21-Oct 24, 1755, he was Lieutenant of the 5th Company of Blanchard's N.H. Regiment.

Entered Rogers Rangers in Aug, 1756, as the Second Lieutenant of Richard Rogers' new Ranger Company. He was not commissioned by Loudoun until Feb 25, 1757. Served in Company until its capture at Ft. Wm. Henry Aug 9, 1757, when it was disbanded following the terms of capitulation.

Died in 1770, aged 74 years.

PHINEAS ATHERTON: 26th Second Lieutenant

Born in Lancaster, Mass., Feb 17, 1740, son of Amos and his wife Elizabeth Harris.

Owned a house and 100 acres of cultivated land. In 1755 he was a volunteer in the expedition against the Acadians in Nova Scotia. In 1757, he was on the L. George front in Capt Thomas Hartwell's Company in Frye's Provincial Regiment.

A Private in Wendell's new Ranger Company

Mar 30, 1758, Ensign by early 1759. Second Lieutenant by end of 1759. Recommended by Rogers on May 4, 1760, for the Lieutenantcy of a proposed new Company under McMullie.

Served in Rogers' 1760 Detroit expedition. Discharged March 24, 1761.

Served as a Loyalist in the Revolution. Appointed in Jan, 1777, Lieutenant in the King's Royal Regiment of N.Y. The following July was Provost-Marshal to Burgoyne's army and he was taken prisoner with this army in Oct, 1777, and kept prisoner until Nov, 1782, "labouring under every inconvenience that his incensed neighbours could devise."

On Jan 26, 1784, Colonel Abijah Willar vouched for his integrity as a firm Loyalist. In 1788 he was imprisoned for debt in the Marshalsea Prison in London, where, according to his petition, he had lain for over two months in great distress and destitute even of the common necessaries of life. On Nov 24, of the same year he wrote a letter regarding his property. On July 26, 1784, he gave evidence in support of his claim and his application for a pension. He was apparently in England at the outbreak of the American Revolution and returned home immediately. His claim of 140 pounds for the loss of his property was met with reward of 110 pounds. Atherton was a signatory to the memorial of Jonathan Carver, Moses Park and Isaac Da Costa dated May 18, 1772, praying to be appointed members of a proposed expedition under Rogers to discover a NW Passage.-E.A.Jones, Loyalists of Mass., pp 10-11. H.S.Nourse, Military Annals of Lancaster, Mass., pp 42, 59-60. A petition is printed in H.E.Egerton's The Royal Commission on the Losses and Services of American Loyalists, pp 90-1. Sir Wm Johnson Papers, VIII, p 134. I am particularly indebted to Robert C. Davis of the University of Wisconsin for clues on Atherton.

MARTIN SEVERANCE of Rogers' Own

Born at Deerfield, Mass. 40 years old in 1759. Light complexion. Private March 9, to after July 24, 1757. Sergt by Nov 24, 1757. Captured with Stevens and Stone at L. George Narrows June 25, 1758. Sent to Quebec and exchanged to England. Signed on H.M.S ESSEX as a seaman in order to gain passage back to N.Y. Upon arriving, the ship's Captain, John Curtin refused to relinquish him. Upon Major Rogers' intercession he was released to re-join the Corps about May 11, 1759.

MATTHEW SEVERANCE of Burbank's

From Deerfield, Mass. Deserted July 13, 1759. $30 reward offered the day of his desertion by Lt. McMullen.

NATHAN SIMONDS of Hobbs' (Bulkeley's)

Entered Aug 1, 1756 at Boston as Sergeant. At work at Ft. Edward on Dec 14, 1756 roll. Discharged May 30, 1757. There is apparently a discrepancy on the June 24-Aug 24, 1757 roll for he is carried on this muster. Either that or he re-enlisted between May 30 and June 24, 1757. This would account for his being in service Nov 24, 1757. Demoted to Private March 21, 1757. Re-enlisted same day as Private.

BRYAN SWEENEY of J. Stark's

Entered Feb 24, 1757 as a Sergeant.
Private by May 25, 1757. In service April 24, 1758 as a Private.

ROBERT TRUETT of Speakman's

Entered Aug 1, 1756 at Boston as Sergeant. Reported killed Jan 21, 1757 at La Barbe Creek. Recruiting by Mar 24, 1757. Apparently was not successful as a recruiter for he is a Private on the Apr 24, 1757 roll. July 24, 1757 last mention.

JASON WAIT of J. Rogers'

Entered as Sergeant April 1, 1760.

JAMES WARREN of Bulkeley's

Entered Mar 15, 1757 as Sergeant to Nov 24, 1757 to ____.

HENDRICK TAUPUNKSCOT of Jacob C.

From May 27-Nov 11, 1756.

PHILLIP WELLS of Rogers' Own

EBENEZER PERRY of Hobbs'

Entered Aug 1, 1756, at Boston. At work at Ft. Edward Dec 14, 1756. Wounded in shoulder Jan 21, 1757 at LaBarbue Crk. Discharged May 30, 1757, refused to serve 5th establishment.

JOHN ROBERTSON of Hobbs'

Entered Aug 1, 1756 at Boston as Corporal. Served until Oct 24, 1756 when he was demoted to Private. Re-enstated to Corporal by Feb 24, 1757, succeeding a Corporal killed at La Barbue Creek, Jan 21, 1757. However, he was immediately reduced to Private again due to the abolishing of Corporals in the provisions of the Feb 24, 1757 Loudoun establishment of Rogers Rangers (5th estab.). Served as Private until killed May 11, 1757. 16 days pay due (LO 6645 (1)).

WILLIAM SWAN of Speakman's

Entered Aug 1, 1756 at Boston as a Corporal in Speakman's. Became Private Feb 24, 1757, when Company became J. Stark's and Corporals were abolished from Rogers Rangers (see above, John Robertson). He was discharged May 31, 1757 not willing to accept the new terms.
